Position Statement on the outcome of the Royal Pharmaceutical Society's Special Resolution vote

The Association of Pharmacy Technicians UK (APTUK) congratulate the Royal Pharmaceutical Society following the announcement of a mandate with a majority of their members voting to transition to a Royal College of Pharmacy. We recognise the commitment of individuals for the work required for a Special Resolution vote and commend all involved for their dedication.

We look forward to working collaboratively and constructively for an evolved pharmacy professional leadership future, to ensure equity of opportunity and representation for all. We have a shared vision of excellence in care for our patients and the public, within and beyond pharmacy.
